

Richard Osuch CEO / President

My EV Charger LLC
13722 Oak Cabin
San Antonio, Texas 78232

Cellular: (210) 771-3220

Email: Richard@myEVcharger.com

www.myEVcharger.com

IMMEDIATE PRESS RELEASE:

San Antonio, Texas, January 27, 2021

Announcing our newest OEM product in North America: EV Make-Ready Services

About Auto Dealership EV Make-Ready Services

On Monday, 25 January 2021, My EV Charger company, Headquartered in San Antonio, Texas, USA, proudly announces their premier plan to provide an Auto Dealership EV Make-Ready Service program. The purpose of the program is to provide comprehensive support required for auto dealerships to sell an entirely different kind of vehicle than what they have been accustomed to.

My EV Charger has created a product called “Auto Dealership EV Make-Ready” which assists owners in making their dealerships ready to market and sell electric vehicles (EVs).

“We surveyed the auto industry and found a need incurred by the dealerships which was not being addressed by many of the manufacturers. We understood there were really only two things for an owner to consider in upgrading their dealership to prepare for EVs: (1) return on investment and (2) minimizing cost of ownership.”

Richard Osuch, CEO of My EV Charger

With our EV make-ready service, owners can dramatically minimize their dealership upgrade cost, learn how to showcase their EVs, highlight crucial selling points to buyers, and realize available federal and state rebate incentives. In addition, we will install OEM approved charging stations in critical areas (service bays and sales lot) and provide a comprehensive plan of how to realize revenue from the asset; provide training for mechanics on required tools, and deliver the adequate education and preparation needed to Sales and F&I teams.

“We will be there for the dealership at every stage of the transition.”

Richard Osuch, CEO of My EV Charger

The Electric Revolution is Here! How will you prepare your dealership?

