IMMEDIATE PRESS RELEASE:

San Antonio, Texas, January 27, 2021

Announcing our newest product in North America: OEM EV Products Program

About Auto Dealership OEM EV Products Program

On Monday, 25 January 2021, My EV Charger company, Headquartered in San Antonio, Texas, USA, proudly announces their premier plan to provide a value-added resource to Auto Dealerships through our OEM Products Program. The purpose of the program is to provide the comprehensive support required for auto dealerships to confidently market, use and sell our OEM components.

My EV Charger has brought to the electric vehicle (EV) industry a comprehensive program called “Auto Dealership OEM EV Products Program,” which provides owners the required confidence to market, use and sell our OEM components.

“We looked across the auto dealership marketplace and realized we could satisfy a need of the EV auto industry by leveraging our relationships with manufacturers to better provide owners with the necessary confidence to market, use and sell our OEM products.”

Richard Osuch, CEO of My EV Charger

Our Auto Dealership OEM EV Products Program stands in marked contrast to other aftermarket EV products which offer replacement parts that are generic and cheaply made, while our certified OEM components are made specifically to replace the original item. Owners should feel confident that they can market, use and sell our certified OEM products with assuredness. As part of our OEM EV Products Program, My EV Charger will provide to our partners necessary education and literature on our products and services. In addition, our customer service department will be available to field any questions with regard to our Program from our partners.

“We look forward to forging a comprehensive relationship built on trust and confidence with our auto dealership partners.”

Richard Osuch, CEO of My EV Charger
